Hospital To Start Nurse Aide Course

The Murray Hospital Association announced today that a Nurse Aide Training Course will be started in August.

There will be two two-hour periods of class instruction each week and after the second week there will also be twelve hours of training in the hospital each week. The course will be given over a period of 6 weeks.

The purpose of the Nurse Aide Training Course will be to train personnel to help the doctors and professional nurses of this area give better bedside patient care.

Applications for the course will be accepted until August 19. Only 10 students will be accepted for the class.

There will be no charges or fees for the course except the student should purchase the manual "Handbook For Nursing Aids In Hospitals" at a cost of $1.50. The manuals will be available at the hospital.

Upon completion of the course a certificate will be given. The hospital will not guarantee graduates of the course that they will be employed at the hospital; however, Mr. Warming, the administrator said that at the present time the hospital needs more nurses.

The beginning salary for nurse aides at the hospital for a 48-hour week is $125 a month for day shift duty and $135 for evening and night duty.

The Director of Nurses, Mrs. Lucille Ross, will be the instructor. Applicants should be at least 18 years of age and not over 45 and should have a minimum of two years of high school.

Applications are available at the Murray Hospital information desk.

Egypt Seizes Suez Canal In Retaliation

CAIRO, July 27 (AP) — Egypt's revolutionary regime today took over operation of the Suez Canal, seized by President Gamal Abdel Nasser in retaliation to the Western withdrawal of financial support for the Aswan High Dam project.

Nasser declared the nationalization of the vital 101-mile canal in a blistering anti-Western speech to cheering thousands in Alexandria Thursday.

"The Suez Canal belongs to Egypt," Nasser said. He said the revenue from the canal would be used to finance the multi-million dollar Aswan High Dam project on the Nile.

Armed police immediately moved in to take over the Cairo headquarters of the Suez Canal Company, which has operated the lifeline between East and West since it was opened in 1866.

Company offices and properties in Ismailia and Suez also were taken over. Naval units already were in position at both ends of the canal.

The Suez Canal Company is a nominally private company with headquarters in Paris. The British government, however, is the biggest stockholder.

New of the seizure stunned both London and Paris. Prime Minister Anthony Eden immediately summoned French and American diplomats to discuss possible countermeasures.

All assets of the company in Egypt and abroad were frozen and all employees ordered to remain on their jobs under threat of arrest or imprisonment by the nationalization decree.

Nasser said that all stockholders in the nationalized company will be compensated on the basis of the closing prices on the Cairo stock exchange Wednesday.

During the evacuation and didn't learn until hours later that he was aboard the Stockholm.

How the "unsinkable" Andrea Doria could have been mortally wounded in a collision was termed "incredible" by U. S. Naval officials. The 26,000-ton floating art gallery featured a double hull and specially-designed watertight compartments to prevent just such a catastrophe.

One possible explanation was the Stockholm, weighing approximately half as much as the Andrea Doria, could have opened such a gaping wound in the side of the Italian ship lay in the Swedish vessel's special construction. The Stockholm featured a reinforced prow for battering through the ice that it encounters in waters around Sweden.

Blame for the collision, not evident today, will have to be fixed by an international investigating body. The accident happened out of U. S. territorial waters and the U. S. government was not expected to take any part in the probe unless asked by the governments concerned.

The Murray Little League All-Stars behind the pitching of Tommy Lyons, won over Benton last night 10 to 1.

The big batting runs for Murray were Grogan with two hits, Steele with 1, Williams with 1, and Lyons with a grand slam home.

Murray played good ball last night although getting only five hits, but they scored ten runs on those five.

Tonight Murray goes to Paducah to meet the Paducah American League Champions. This is a semi-final match tonight with the finals scheduled for Monday.

Fans are urged to come out and give their support to these all stars. Some excellent ball playing will be in store for those who view this event.

Human Error Could Have Caused Crash

By JEROME BRAZDA
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 27 (AP) — Nautical experts said today the sinking of the Italian luxury liner Andrea Doria maritime history could have been caused by human error.

These experts did not rule out, however, the possibility that freak atmospheric conditions may have cancelled out the radar gear of both the Andrea Doria and the Swedish motor ship Stockholm which rammed her amidships Wednesday night.

But John Conte, a deck cadet and one of the 1,675 known survivors of the collision off Nantucket Island, said he raced to the bridge after the thundering impact and saw a ship blip on the Andrea Doria's radar screen.

Chairman Herbert C. Bonner of the House Merchant Marine Committee, anticipating a request for legislation by Italy or Sweden, Thursday night asked the U. S. Coast Guard for full details.

The state-controlled Italian lines summoned its board of directors into an emergency session in Genoa today and it was expected a formal request for an investigation would be made.

Italy mourned the sinking of the 26,000-ton Andrea Doria, pride of Italy's merchant fleet, as a national calamity.

At least seven persons and possibly eight died in the collision, including Camille Cianfarra, Madrid correspondent of the New York Times. More than 100 were injured.

Cianfarra, only newsman aboard the Andrea Doria and one who could have given his newspaper one of the greatest eyewitness scoops of all time, "was crushed to death by the heavy bow of the small but powerful Stockholm when it crashed into his stateroom."

Angry Survivors File Petition

Ninety angry survivors of the Andrea Doria charged in a petition to death by the heavy bow of the small but powerful Stockholm when it crashed into his stateroom.

The petitioners charged that the crew shouted orders in Italian that could not be understood by hundreds of English speaking passengers. They said the public address system remained silent.

Employees Of Stove Plant Urged To Read Full Page Ad

Employees of the Murray Manufacturing Company are urged to read a full page ad in today's issue of the Ledger and Times. It is relative to their returning to work.

The company attempted to move offices, and production equipment following their expansion program. Tommy Wells went all the way for the Murray, but was not as sharp as he usually is, allowing seven hits and walking four.

He struck out eight men. Murray went out in front in the first inning as Jerry Buchanan tripled and scored on a throwing error by catcher who was trying to pick him off.

Nelson Shrontz was hit by a pitched ball, sending him to first base. He promptly stole second and went to third on the throw.

Tommy Wells walked and stole second. Tommy McClure got on first to lead the bases. Thurman Baker struck out, but Glenn Brewer came to bat and delivered a good single to score Shroat and Wells. This gave Murray a three run lead in the third and it looked good for the local boys.

In the third inning Jack Webb blasted one over the left field fence for three run homer for Bowling Green, which wiped out the Murray lead, and made it a 3-3 ball game.

Murray kept the lead however in the fourth with one run as Buchanan got an infield hit, then went to second on a single by McClure.

Murray added two more runs in the fifth as Brewer singled, Jetton was hit by a pitched ball and Ted Billington forced Brewer at third.

Jetton was then called out at third as he tried to steal third. Stout reached second on a two base error by the third baseman and Billington moved to third. Billington and Stout scored as Buchanan moved forward on a two base error by the shortstop.

In the top of the seventh the roof fell in as Douglas and Doughty singled with Douglas going to third on a right fielder error. Douglas scored on a passed ball to make it 6-4 in favor of Murray.

Wells struck out the next two batters, but walked Hamline and Webb. Larry Jones struck an easy grounder to the mound, but the ball took a crazy hop over Wells' head. Buchanan grabbed the ball but threw it wild to first and two runs scored on the play to tie the game.

Eugene Rinko ground back to Wells who threw him out at first to end the inning.

Murray had their backs to the wall when they came to bat in the seventh. Two times Bowling Green had come from behind to tie up the game.

Glenn Brewer stepped into the breach and blasted out a double to the left center fence and went on the third when the fielder muffed the ball.

STEEL SETTLEMENT SEEN

By ROBERT G. SHORTAL
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 27 (AP) — End of the 27-day steel strike hinged today on putting the three-year agreement into formal language.

But that's not as easy as it sounds. The negotiators for the steel industry and the United Steelworkers union have agreed orally on all major economic issues but they are finding it rough to put them into writing.

The four-man negotiating teams for labor and management were to meet again this morning in an effort to put the finishing touches on the three-year contract that will end the billion-dollar walkout.

David J. McDonald, president of the USW, said he is confident a new contract covering 650,000 striking steelworkers will be signed within 48 hours.

He told reporters late Thursday that a new contract will be followed by a "substantial wage increase."

Will Meet Owensboro For The District Championship Title

The Murray American Legion team advanced to the finals last night in the Western sectional tournament underway at Holland Stadium, when they edged Bowling Green, state champion for the past three years, by a score of 7-6.

Tommy Wells went all the way for the Murray, but was not as sharp as he usually is, allowing seven hits and walking four.

He struck out eight men. Murray went out in front in the first inning as Jerry Buchanan tripled and scored on a throwing error by catcher who was trying to pick him off.

Nelson Shrontz was hit by a pitched ball, sending him to first base. He promptly stole second and went to third on the throw.

Tommy Wells walked and stole second. Tommy McClure got on first to lead the bases. Thurman Baker struck out, but Glenn Brewer came to bat and delivered a good single to score Shroat and Wells. This gave Murray a three run lead in the third and it looked good for the local boys.

In the third inning Jack Webb blasted one over the left field fence for three run homer for Bowling Green, which wiped out the Murray lead, and made it a 3-3 ball game.

Murray kept the lead however in the fourth with one run as Buchanan got an infield hit, then went to second on a single by McClure.

Murray added two more runs in the fifth as Brewer singled, Jetton was hit by a pitched ball and Ted Billington forced Brewer at third.

Jetton was then called out at third as he tried to steal third. Stout reached second on a two base error by the third baseman and Billington moved to third. Billington and Stout scored as Buchanan moved forward on a two base error by the shortstop.

Another Complainant Out Of School Case

MADISONVILLE, July 27 (AP) — Another of the Negro complainants in a segregation suit filed in the Federal Court at Owensboro withdrew from the case, Thursday.

Jessie Mae Mackey, who is listed as "next friend" of 13-year-old MacArthur Mackey, was the fifth of the plaintiffs to back out of the suit filed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People against Hopkins County school officials.

The suit seeks an injunction ordering desegregation of the Hopkins County school system "with deliberate speed."

Federal Judge Henry L. Brooks probably will rule on the request for an injunction within the next few days.

Of the plaintiffs in the suit, 21 are pupils. One of these and four adults have now indicated their intention of withdrawing.

Larry Jetton struck out. Billington went to bat with one ball and no strikes on him. The pitcher threw it wild and Brewer came sliding home with the winning run. Brewer and Buchanan collected three hits each for Murray.

Owensboro won in a walk in the other two games of the day. They beat Elizabethtown in the afternoon 11 to 1 behind the pitching of Billy Martin and won 7-2 in the nightcap over Highland of Louisville with Ayers on the mound.

Murray will meet Owensboro tonight at 8:00 o'clock for the championship game in a nine-inning event.

Rotary Hears About Trip Of Holmes Ellis

Hiram Tucker was in charge of the Rotary program yesterday at the regular meeting at the Woman's Club House.

Tucker introduced Dr. O. C. Wells and Hunter Love who discussed some of the letters they had received from clubs in other nations. Each member of the International Relations committee of which Tucker was head last year, wrote ten letters to different clubs in the world giving some information about Murray and Calloway County.

Dr. Wells and Love reported that the answers they received indicated a desire of clubs in other nations to learn more about America and its way of life.

Following Dr. Wells and Hunter Love, Tucker introduced Holmes Ellis, retiring president. Ellis was presented with a diamond Rotary pin for his past year's service.

He gave a short talk on the recent trip he made to European countries which use dark fired tobacco. He pointed out that exports of dark fired tobacco have decreased because many countries now grow their own tobacco.

Flue cured tobacco, used primarily in cigarettes, is the largest tobacco export from America, he said. Calloway County dark fired tobacco is exported mostly to Holland and France with some of the other nations receiving a small amount.

High import duty in England discourages sales there, he reported.

Ellis told the Rotarians that the manufacturers and processors were very friendly to him in his travels which covered a period of about one month.

He passed around several samples of finished tobacco products from other nations.

Paul Martin of Paducah was a visiting Rotarian. Guest of Holmes Ellis was Ivan Jett, of the Kentucky Chain Stores Council.

Guest of Ralph Woods was Mr. Darby.

President Hugh Oakley reminded the Rotarians that District Governor Bill Snyder would make his annual visit to the local club on August 2. He will be present at the club meeting on Thursday, August 2 and the club assembly Tuesday night at the Kenlake Hotel.

Thursday night at 7:00 o'clock on Thursday night at the Kenlake Hotel.

WE CAN'T BUY FRIENDS

Two items appeared recently which further convince Americans that we can't buy friends with foreign aid, nor can we expect returns on investments, or gifts, distributed abroad.

Ever since World War Two leaders like Harry Truman, General George Marshall, and President Eisenhower have been telling us foreign aid is an important part of our defense program—that we must distribute billions of dollars in Europe and Asia to prevent nation after nation from falling to Communism.

Well it doesn't work that way, and one of the dispatches referred to above concerned a conference held on Yugoslav President Tito's private island between him, Nehru of India and Nassar of Egypt.

At this conference the "Little Three" adopted a "manifesto" to eliminate trade barriers, freedom for Algeria and admission of Red China to United Nations. They also urged settlement of the German problem by "peaceful negotiation."

The other item dealt with the Aswan Dam project in Egypt, and conveyed the information that Great Britain had joined the United States in deciding to furnish any part of the billion and a quarter dollars needed to build this great dam on the Nile River.

Tito's conference sounds fair and reasonable, in fact just like conferences held in Russia. But just hold one at Geneva, such as the one held one year ago, and see how far the Reds of any nation will go towards solving any problem.

The German problem was specifically mentioned at the Tito Conference. At last year's Geneva Conference it was the Number One problem, and President Eisenhower stated the first time he got the floor that a united Germany was a prime requisite for world peace. Also a free Germany.

We all know what the Russians did about that proposal. And we all know what her present leaders have been saying about Germany ever since, not only with words, but with machine guns and tanks, both in East Germany and in Poland.

We think it is about time to call a halt on foreign aid, and construction of locks and dams in other countries that cost as much as all the locks and dams on the Tennessee River combined.

We also think it is time to let the "neutrals" know they look Red to us, and that we have been wise to them all along, even before we armed Tito to the teeth, did what we could to get independence for Egypt, and to keep millions in India from starving.

CANTON, Mass. — Jackie Burke said after winning the PGA golf championship that he was going to cut down the number of his tournament appearances because he owed more time to his children, and it brings to mind the case of Walter Hagen Jr.

You probably heard of his father. He was the great Walter Hagen, certainly one of the most colorful golfers of all time and a man who won the recently completed total of five times.

Yet the Hagen's constant travels as he devoted most of his years to the tournament-rail, made young Walter hate the game as a youngster.

From the time he was eight, because of family difficulties, Hagen spent his life in boarding schools. The elder Hagen took him along as much as possible during vacation periods but usually the boy "had to read the sports page to find out where Dad was at that moment."

It also meant that, instead of realizing his dreams of becoming an All-America football center or a major league catcher, the young Hagen was expected by everyone to "chip off the old block" and actually forced into the game.

"I disliked the game because of the lonesome hours I stood around the putting green as a child waiting for my father to get away from his legion of friends," Walter Jr. recalls. "And, instead of playing catch with the kids behind the caddy shack, I was all dressed up and had to be the little gentleman."

Big Time Help
Because of the elder Hagen's magic name, young Walter early was associated with the great names of sports. He played tennis with big Bill Tilden, Mickey Cochrane, one of baseball's immortals, gave young Walter a new catcher's mitt, broke it in for him, and taught him how to catch.

Yet, when the youngster reached prep school, and had nailed down the number one catching job, he was yanked off the team and automatically made number one man of the golf team.

It was the rival number one men wanted to play — and here — the great Hagen's son, he grins — disappointed very few of them.

Going on to Notre Dame, it was natural that he was "granted" for the golf team. There, standing on the first tee, he flubbed his first tee shot.

Life's Turning Point
"Boy, a watching fellow student cracked, 'he's really a bum.' That was the turning point in young Hagen's life. He decided to learn to play golf realistically; quit being the great Hagen's son who always was fishing three people; his opponent, his true self, and Hagen's son.

It was one of his great thrills to "earn" the Notre Dame captaincy in his own right and win the Indiana intercollegiate. Today he is a successful businessman and a scratch player proud of being Hagen's son but even more proud that always he is himself.

Which, getting back to Jackie Burke, what the new P.G.A. champion insists is never going to happen to his children. He deserves a hand for wanting to give them one.

Braves Beat Power Men Of Cinci, Brooks

By FRED DOWN

United Press Sports Writer

The Milwaukee Braves are beating the vaunted power hitters of the Cincinnati Reds and Brooklyn Dodgers at their own game.

Generally regarded as a team built around a composite 331 for 22 games since July 2 with a power-packed lineup that has averaged 87 runs a game. During the same period the Reds have averaged 44 runs while compiling a 12-11 record and the Dodgers have averaged 51 while winning 13 of 22 contests.

Hank Aaron, Joe Adcock, Ed Mathews and Bobby Thomson are the "big sticks" in the drive. This "ferocious foursome" has averaged a composite 331 for 22 games while connecting for 29 homers and driving in 83 runs.

How They Stack Up
The 22-game breakdown on the four sluggers is as follows:

	AB	H	HR	RBI	Avg.
Aaron	80	24	6	19	.425
Adcock	80	22	12	20	.325
Mathews	81	24	6	20	.296
Thomson	44	10	5	14	.227
Average	272	90	29	29	.331

Aaron knocked in four runs with his 15th homer and two singles and Thomson whacked his 18th round-tripper Thursday when the Braves routed the New York Giants, 11-0, to run their latest winning streak to five games and increase their first place lead to 5½ games. Gene Conley was touched for nine hits but breezed behind a 16-hit assault to his fifth triumph.

Dodgers Sweep Series
The Dodgers, meanwhile, completed a sweep of their three-game series with the Reds with a 5-3 victory behind Roger Craig's six-hitter. Roy Campanella hit a three-run, fourth-inning homer for the Dodgers while Frank Robinson and Ted Kluszewski homered for the Reds. The victory moved the Dodgers to within a half-game of the Reds, but they trail Milwaukee by six games.

Rookie Fred Waters and veteran Howie Pollet collaborated in a four-hitter to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 4-0 decision over the Chicago Cubs and the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 14-9, in other NL games.

Pollet saved Waters after the young right hander walked the first two batters in the ninth to help the Pirates score their third straight win with the aid of a throwing error by Sam Jones. Homers by Wally Moon, Ken Boyer and pitcher Herman Wehmer enabled the Cardinals to kayo Robin Roberts.

Monte Sierra Yanks
Mickey Mantle's three hits led an 11-hit attack that gave the New York Yankees an 8-5 decision over the Chicago White Sox in the American League. Don Larsen limited the White Sox to one run in the last six innings to pick up his sixth win while Jack Harshman suffered his seventh loss.

Bob Lemon registered his 13th victory of the year and 194th of his career when Gene Woodling's sixth-inning homer gave the Cleveland Indians a 1-0 win over the Washington Senators. The game was halted in the seventh by rain but Woodling's homer was enough to give the Indians their sixth straight.

Ted Williams' two-run 10th-inning homer enabled the Boston Red Sox to win 4-3 over the Senators.

Archie Moore Feels Sharp After Victory

TORONTO, Ont., July 26 — Archie Moore, 39, about $45,000 richer for having stopped big James J. Parker in the ninth round, felt the "sharpness" of his career today as he anticipated with gusto his nearly certain shot at the heavyweight crown in September.

"With 10 fights under my belt already this year, I'm sharper than ever before and I'm hitting with more leverage," said the ancient maestro from San Diego, Calif., whose victory Wednesday night practically insured the September title fight with young Floyd Patterson at New York's Yankee Stadium.

Moore was as delighted with his performance against blood-matted Parker as were promoters Jack Solomon of London and Vic Barnato of Toronto, who teamed for the most successful boxing show in Canadian history.

Red Sox to beat the Kansas City Athletics, 5-3, as Ike Delock won his sixth in a row and eighth game of the year and homers by George Kell, Gus Triandos and Tito Francona paced the Baltimore Orioles to an 11-4 decision over Billy Hoel and the Detroit Tigers in the other AL games.

at the Maple Leaf Baseball Stadium. New Canadian records of 19,900 fans and $148,500 were set by the extravaganza at which boxing wore white tuxedos, and at which drum majorettes wore umbrellas and a bagpipe band provided the music. There were 78 writers at ringside.

Parker of Toronto, packing 211½ pounds on a six-foot-three and three-quarter tower, made a game stand against lethal Archie, but he suffered such butchery from Moore's jabbing left jabs and sneaker rights that he was half-blinded by blood from the fourth round on. Moore weighed 188 pounds, 24½ less than Big Jim.

Despite the handicap of his 28-year old Parker, managed to shake up Archie in the second and sixth rounds with long left hooks and hard straight rights to the body and head. There were no knockdowns, but bloody James J. appeared ready to lighter down the ring ropes when Referee Billy Burke mercifully stopped the bout at 2:02 of the ninth round. None of the three ring officials gave a reason to Parker, although two called one round won.

EATS, TEETH STOLEN
CHICAGO — Railroad worker Robert Howleson had to go on a soft diet today because someone stole his lunchbox. The stolen box contained his upper and lower dentures.

Won Fight But Tougher Than He Thought
CHICAGO, Ill. — Isaac Logart, a Cuban welterweight who strongly resembles former champion Kid Gavilan, counted another $4,000 in television money today, but it was harder to earn than he anticipated.

Logart took a unanimous decision from a former national collegiate 147 pound titleholder, Michigan State's Ted Black, but "He's much tougher than I thought," the winner said.

"He's not so stupid, that fellow," trainer Mundito Medina, who also tutored Gavilan, added. "He was supposed to come at us all the time, but he didn't and he was hard to fight."

Logart, a five to one favorite, weighed 147½ to Black's 144½ and won his 47th in 57 pro fights.

WITNESSING THROUGH SUFFERING

In writing this Epistle, Peter fulfilled that greatly needed ministry of strengthening Christians, who were passing through fiery trials which tested their faith in Christ. Through the intervening centuries millions of faithful Christians have been subjected to severe persecution on account of their devotion to Christ. Various passages of scripture indicate that the children of God, who live in obedience to His precious will, may expect the opposition and persecution of the world. This Epistle has been a great encouragement to multitudes who have encountered persecution.

1 Peter 1:3-9. It was to comfort dispersed Christians in their sorrows and to encourage them in their sufferings that these verses were written. Cognizant of their hardships, Peter reminded them that God was still living, that He would sustain them, and that He would ultimately give them a great victory.

Peter's exhortation in verse three reveals reverence, gratitude and love. It is an expression of genuine praise to God for His great abundance, plenteous and merciful mercy, which He had so graciously bestowed upon His children. A glorious hope had been restored to their despairing souls and had taken the place of their complete possession of them that they were exultant, radiant and overflowing with joy. To the fact of Christ's resurrection Christians, then and now, owe the triumph of hope over despair and life over death.

This assurance about which Peter writes is incorruptible and imperishable. It can neither decay nor be taken away. Having been obtained through the sufferings and obedience of Christ, it is undiminished and spotless. Its beauty is undiminished. Since it is reserved in heaven, it is safe from all danger. The Christian hope is ever-living; therefore, it has a tremendous influence on the thoughts, feelings and conduct of the Christian. What a joy to the believer in Christ to know that he is being kept by the power of God for that inheritance in heaven. Salvation originated with God, was perfected by Christ, and He is the one who will perpetuate it. Peter reminded his readers that Christ was the only proper object of their faith and love. When faith and love are properly related to Christ, the Christian becomes the recipient of an unspeakable joy. Christians are the only people who can "rejoice with joy unspeakable." They are happy because they know that their sins are forgiven. The joy of knowing that God does not hold anything against one is indescribable. Christians also rejoice in knowing that they have been set free from sin's power. They rejoice in their knowledge of the fact that Christ has saved them and delivered them from fear of life, death and eternity. It is gloriously true that either the rich or the poor can become the children of God provided they receive Christ as their Saviour. "But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name." John 1:12. 1 Peter 3:6-11.

In these verses Peter tells the dispersed Christians how to live so as to be well-pleasing to God in spite of their being subjected to persecution. Among the Christian duties which he sets forth are the following:

1. Humility, Verse 6. Humility is the richest pearl in the Christian crown of graces. It is a trait that is always in fashion, never wears out, and is always becoming. Humility is recognized by men, admired by the angels, and appreciated by the Lord. The natural man does not regard humility as an attribute to be desired and cultivated. Naturally, man's plans do not include suffering or persecution. Peter fills his readers to humble themselves under the mighty hand of God, for "God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble." A proud person becomes self-centered. He is concerned primarily about his exaltation, and is exceedingly sensitive when he does not have his own way. Peter uses a figure for "girding with humility" as if it were a towel, but giveth grace unto the humble. We are admonished to "clothe ourselves up in humility." This exhortation is very important because the tendencies to pride are so insidious. But there is no place for pride in the life of a child of God. He owes all of his natural gifts to God. He has been the object of undeserved and redeeming love. Self-exaltation spoils everything. Besides, pride has no chance of meeting with success for "God resisteth the proud." But, God will exalt the humble in due time. That is why we, as God's people, should be humble before the Lord amid trials, afflictions and chastisements, and wait patiently for the accomplishment of His will for there will come a season of His visitation in mercy and favor. As humble Christians we should simply recognize our insignificance, utter worthlessness, and impotence, and cast ourselves upon the faithfulness of God.
2. Trustfulness, Verse 7. Do not miss the glorious truth of this verse. Place all of your cares in His hand for He is vitally concerned about you. Trustfulness consists in casting all of your care upon God. God's children cannot be victorious in their living if they are weighed down with anxious care. It is their privilege to cast their burden of care upon a God who has made it His business to care for them. There

"BEFORE AND AFTER 'ALERT'"
